IMPORTANT NOTICE:

There may be odor and vapor coming from the heater the first time you use it or after storing the unit. This is normal and is the result of dust and other debris accumulating on the heating element. Make sure the heater is in a well ventilated area and continue running it until the odor and vapor go away.

Your heater is packed with a separate base in the box. When assembling the base, carefully remove all parts from the plastic bags. To prevent scratches, place all parts onto a cloth before assembly.

Refer to the instruction manual for further information about your Bionaire® heater.
