MSA Announces First Quarter Results

Local currency sales growth of 4 percent driven by strong performance in core products

PITTSBURGH, April 27, 2015 - Global safety equipment manufacturer MSA Safety Incorporated (NYSE: MSA) today reported results for the first quarter of 2015.

Quarterly Highlights

- Reported revenue was $257 million, down 3 percent from the first quarter of 2014. Income from continuing operations was $9 million, or $0.25 per diluted share. Adjusted earnings were $16 million, or $0.42 per diluted share.
- While quarterly reported revenue was down 3 percent on weaker foreign currencies, local currency revenue increased 4 percent, driven by 7 percent growth in core products. Strong shipping activity of self-contained breathing apparatus (SCBA), fire helmets and fixed gas and flame detection was partially offset by weaker results in industrial head protection and portable gas detection instruments, primarily in energy markets.
- Local currency sales of SCBA increased 27 percent, driven by growth of 62 percent in North America. Global backlog of SCBA is $82 million, more than doubling from the same period a year ago.
- Products developed within the last five years drove 37 percent of quarterly core product revenue, compared to 22 percent a year ago.

Comments from Management

“Our first quarter reflected a strong uptick in SCBA shipments offset by expected weakness in products sold into energy markets,” said William M. Lambert, MSA President and CEO. He noted that the company continues to see meaningful levels of order activity in its new and revolutionary G1 SCBA, which helped to offset weakness in industrial head protection and portable gas detection, driven by decreased demand in the North American energy market. “Despite the challenges we’re seeing in the energy market, the 62 percent growth in SCBA in North America provides a sense of optimism as we enter the second quarter and further ramp up shipping activity against our growing backlog of business in this area,” Mr. Lambert continued.

“While our first quarter results reflected anticipated weakness in foreign currencies and certain end markets, our robust SCBA backlog and continued success in Europe provides some momentum going forward. As it has in the past, our diversified geographic footprint and product portfolio continue to help us weather challenging conditions,” Mr. Lambert concluded.

The Corporate segment was established on January 1, 2015 to reflect the activities of centralized functions in our corporate headquarters and to capture results in a manner that the chief operating decision maker reviews. The corporate segment primarily consists of administrative expenses and centrally-managed costs such as interest expense and foreign exchange gains or losses. Additionally, effective January 1, 2015, we changed the allocation methodology applied to Research and Development expense. The 2014 segment results have been recast to conform with current period presentation.

Management believes that adjusted earnings and adjusted earnings per share are useful measures for investors when analyzing ongoing operating trends. There can be no assurances that additional special items will not occur in future periods, nor that MSA's definition of adjusted earnings is consistent with that of other companies. As such, management believes that it is appropriate to consider both net income determined on a GAAP basis as well as adjusted earnings. Management does not use these non-GAAP financial measures for any purpose other than the reasons stated above.
