Weather and National Disaster Cancellation

We are always committed to hosting planned camps and events as scheduled. Simultaneously, your group's safety is our priority. If circumstances beyond the control of either party including dangerous weather conditions or national disaster make hosting a planned event illegal, impossible, or irresponsible and we cancel the event or you cancel your registration on your own, we will not be able to refund your deposits. Deposit monies have already been spent on items such as giveaway t-shirts, supplies, marketing, printing, production, and personnel. Refunds of final balance payments will be made only if host venues refund us for their costs.
