Living a GOSPEL-CENTERED Mission

GOSPEL PREJECT.

ED STETZER: REVITALIZING A GOSPEL CULTURE

Ed Stetzer, Ph.D., is the Founding Editor of The Gospel Project. He holds the Billy Graham Chair of Church, Mission, and Evangelism at Wheaton College and serves as Executive Director of the Billy Graham Center. He has planted, revitalized, and pastored churches, trained pastors and church planters on six continents, holds two masters degrees and two doctorates, and has written dozens of articles and books.
What is the difference between driving people to change and allowing God's grace to change them?

What are some practical ways that leaders in the church can honor the past while moving

Why is it so important that we repetitively cast a gospel vision for our churches?

What are a few ways to celebrate how God is at work in the local church?

towards the future?

DHATI LEWIS: PREACHING THE GOSPEL IN AN URBAN CONTEXT

Dhati Lewis is the Lead Pastor of Blueprint Church in Atlanta, Georgia and the Executive Director of Community Restoration with the North American Mission Board. He is the author of both the Bible study and book, Among Wolves: Disciple Making in the City . Dhati and his wife, Angie, have seven children.
Why is it dangerous to pray that God would send us the people that no one else wants?
How does Christ's welcoming of us teach us how to welcome others?
W/I
What are specific ways we can embody the gospel in our context?
How does humility shape the way we enter the context of other people's lives?

PAUL MARTIN: GOSPEL CENTRALITY IN A POST-CHRISTIAN CONTEXT

Paul Martin is the Senior Pastor of Grace Fellowship Church in Toronto, Ontario, Canada. His passion for training leaders has led him to teach at local seminaries, as well as oversee a long-standing mentoring program for potential future pastors. He is a partner of numerous ministries including 9Marks, The Gospel Coalition Canada, The Charles Simeon Trust, The Elisha Foundation and the Ethics and Religious Liberty Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention. He and his wife, Susan, have been married for more than twenty-five years and have four children.

Ethics and Religious Liberty Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention. He and his wife, Susan, have been married for more than twenty-five years and have four children.
Why is the gospel the most important news for every person in every culture?
How does the gospel unify people when their cultures and preferences collide?
How does the gospel teach us to lay down our preferences for others?
How does the gospel keep us from making much of ourselves?

J.D. GREEAR: GROWING A SENDING CULT

J. D. Greear is lead pastor of The Summit Church, a multi-site congregation in Raleigh-Durham, North Carolina. He holds an M.Div. in International Church Planting and a Ph.D. in Systematic Theology from the Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary. Greear also lived and worked among Muslims in Southeast Asia for two years. He is the author of several books, including Stop Asking Jesus Into Your Heart . He and his wife have four children.
How do we create a sending culture in our churches?
How does the gospel form us into a gospel people?
If the gospel is a blessing to be a blessing, how does this drive our mission?
How does gospel transformation create a sending culture?