

How to get your group connected, committed, and on mission.

The church described in Acts 2 did more than share their broken bread—they shared their broken lives. They mended broken hearts. They celebrated broken chains. And they thrived in a broken world. Wouldn't you like to see that same type of community in your church? This new Bible study was created to inspire your groups to get back to basics and go all in with their faith. Relationships can be more authentic, actions more selfless, giving more generous, and lives more transformed.
