

Solvantum™ Fluency Align™

Satisfaction through smarter clinical documentation

In today's fast-paced healthcare environment, the demand for smarter documentation solutions is more pressing than ever. Solvantum Fluency Align helps answer that demand. By leveraging innovative generative artificial intelligence (AI) and optimizing our already connected coding and documentation workflows, Solvantum Fluency Align is designed to alleviate documentation burdens while enhancing clinician efficiency and patient care quality.

Solving the clinical documentation dilemma

Clinical documentation can add to an already exhausting workload and impact patient and clinician well-being. Solvantum Fluency Align delivers an experience that can help:

Simplify

Improve the clinical documentation experience through intelligently summarized patient visits. Paired with seamless integration into existing workflows, it can help clinicians experience a more accurate and simplified documentation process that reduces cognitive load and saves time.

Automate

Streamline the documentation process for clinicians by automatically generating accurate, structured and context-rich notes. This enables them to focus more on patient care rather than paperwork. Our automation enhances note quality, supports coding and billing, supports compliance and integrates seamlessly into existing workflows.

Transform

Using generative AI, a patient's experience is captured and structured for real time physician documentation, transforming conversations into accurate, comprehensive clinical notes with minimal manual input.

The impact: A better care experience for everyone

From more patient time to more personal time, ambient clinical documentation can help clinicians refocus on things important to them. Supporting more efficient and productive clinical documentation can lead to:

- More patient time: Be present with patients and focus on care with more engaged and meaningful visits.
- Administrative efficiency: Experience workflows that work and flow as intended, leading to more accurate and real time documentation.
- Improved life balance: Spend less time documenting and get back time to focus on the areas that matter most.

Don't take our word for it

Still unsure that adopting an ambient clinical documentation solution is the right move for your clinicians? Here's what actual Solventum Fluency Align users have to say about how it's made a difference for them:

"Pre-Solventum Fluency Align, I spent a lot of my time pre-charting...probably a good hour to two hours, prepping for the week. Using Solventum Fluency Align has cut that completely out of my life."

Brandon Arruda, physician assistant

"It's very important to me that I can have a highly accurate note...Although I do think it's saved me a significant amount of time, it's...more about improving accuracy."

Claire Carr, physician assistant-certified

"I have found amazing results already. It did save me a lot of time, increased my efficiency but the most amazing thing I have noticed is that I am fully present with the patient. I don't have to worry to take HPI notes."
